

Wyoming Commercial Property Tax Transparency Survey

Source Packet and Survey Reference Guide

Prepared for a statewide survey using Natrona County / Casper as the case study | July 1, 2026

Purpose

This packet collects official Wyoming and Natrona County sources that support survey questions about commercial property valuation, mill levies, assessment notices, business personal property, taxpayer review rights, and appeals. The survey should avoid implying that commercial tax rates are random. The stronger factual frame is that the statewide commercial assessment rate is generally fixed by law, while taxpayer concern may arise from valuation methods, classifications, property data, district mill levies, notices, and the review or appeal process.

Note: This packet is for public education and survey design. It is not legal advice. County offices, the Wyoming Department of Revenue, the Wyoming Legislature, and the State Board of Equalization remain the official sources for decisions and deadlines.

Core findings to use in the survey intro

- Wyoming commercial property is generally assessed at 9.5 percent of market value. Industrial property is generally assessed at 11.5 percent.
- Property is listed, valued, and assessed annually as of January 1. Assessment schedules are sent on or before the fourth Monday in April, or as soon as practicable afterward.
- Assessment schedules must include current and previous fair market value, the assessment ratio, prior-year taxes, estimated current-year taxes based on previous mill levies, and a statement of the contest process.
- Mill levies are applied to assessed value. Natrona County explains the formula as assessed value multiplied by mill rate, divided by 1,000.
- Wyoming law allows a taxpayer to contest an assessment within 30 days after the assessment schedule is sent. The appeal concerns market value and assessment correctness rather than general tax policy.
- Natrona County provides a public case study because it publishes a valuation review process, mill levies, property search, property data download links, business personal property guidance, and commercial income approach materials.
